The Chaplain's Corner

Ride Along

A friend heard me say I was riding to Oklahoma City, and said, "Hey Tim I have a friend twelve miles east of Oklahoma City, how about me riding out with you. Little did I know his wife was a Wal-Mart supervisor, he got her discount and could not pass one without shopping. I sat in one of their freshly paved parking lots in Birmingham Alabama. A customer came by and ask how I was doing, I replied burning up and it doesn't seem to be all that hot, she replied "is 105° hot enough" I laughed said that will do it.

My ride along friend finally came dragging out. I said you need to understand something; I am going to be in a staff meeting Wednesday morning at 11 am in Oklahoma City so get ready for the ride of your life. That resolved the shopping problem somewhat.

We spent the next night we camped on the shore of a beautiful Lake near Russellville Arkansas. I woke up listening to a thunderstorm coming across the lake at three thirty, and said John you awake? A voice from the next tent replied "I am now". Now there is a proper way to break camp in the rain. 1- You get as much as possible of your gear pack inside out of the rain. 2-You get your rain gear on before stepping out to pack gear and tent on your bike. I accomplished all that before the frog strangler starting falling. When I got on old Pumpkin, I noticed I left my leather jacket draped over my windshield the night before.

Have you ever had to put a soaking wet leather jacket on, and then tried to pull a rain suit on over it? Not much could be done to correct that problem, the coat should have not been left out of the tent, but words of wisdom, slip a plastic shopping bag in the outer pocket of your rain pants. The next time you have a to slip a wet boot through the leg of those pants, stick your foot in the bag, and notice how easy it slides through the leg of rain pants.

The next weekend, just before day break, I crashed in Kinston North Carolina, My ride along was sitting a mile away having breakfast. Someone came running in a said "there's a biker on an Orange Harley just got killed."

My friend said the only Orange Harley I know of is Tim Webber's, but it can't be him, by now he would be on I95 strolling. See you in the wind.
